

Enhance your community by investing in yourself

Apply to be a Fellow with Environmental Education of New Mexico

We are currently accepting applications for our EENM Fellowship Program for the term September 1, 2026 through August 31, 2027. Over this yearlong fellowship, participants will explore the world of outdoor education and will walk away with a clear path to weave this training into their work as professionals and community members.

Who should apply?

- Adults, ages 22 years or older: it doesn't matter if you're beginning your career or in retirement!
- New Mexican residents from across the state: monthly meetings will be remote, and travel stipends are available for in-person events
- Those who are passionate about environmental education: this cohort is not restricted by industry, we are looking for individuals who want to bring more outdoor learning into their communities!

Photo Credit: Gabriela Marks

What does an EENM Fellow do?

Monthly remote sessions

- Fellows will learn about environmental education through
 - Professional development trainings
 - Facilitated workshops with environmental education professionals
 - Group discussions and brainstorming sessions

EENM Events

- Fellows will be ambassadors of the fellowship program, attending events to network and connect with like-minded professionals

Capstone Project

- Fellows will develop a project that directly benefits youth in their community by working side-by-side with mentors and experts to develop an impactful project

Volunteer

- Fellows will carry out their capstone by volunteering for 30 hours in the field alongside local partners, teachers, and families

What does an EENM Fellow walk away with?

- A $1,500 stipend for program participation
- Personalized professional development skills in the environmental education field
- A vast network of equally passionate, enthusiastic educators
- Recognition of a completed capstone project that directly impacts their community
- Future opportunities to get involved with EENM leadership and continued touch points with the organization through our fellowship alumni program

What do you need to participate?

- Time for: monthly remote video calls (2 hours max), 3-4 in-person events throughout the year, and 30 hours of in-person volunteering to complete your capstone project
- Access to a wifi-enabled device with a camera and microphone, as well as a reliable internet connection
- An enduring passion for environmental and outdoor learning!

Apply Today

“As a part of this program, I was able to explore ways to create meaningful, hands-on nature experiences that inspire curiosity, connection, and a lifelong love for the environment for the children I was teaching.”

-Susan Schipull, EENM Fellow 2021

Application due August 7th at 11:59 pm
MST

Link to Application

Email info@eenm.org with questions